PERSONNEL OF THE PruneYard branch of the Bank of America had a ball last Friday when they came to work dressed very appropriately as "prune pickers". Or a reasonable facsimile of same.

The guys and gals, from Ed Fabbri, the manager, on down, did their prune picking thing as a part of the promotion for the services that the bank offers. The promotion was to emphasize the contest that the staff was conducting for new accounts.

We don't know how many new accounts were obtained. But the people who came into the bank seemed to enjoy the festivities as much as the employees.

There were ladders and lug boxes plus real prunes scattered throughout the lobby with hand-lettered signs explaining what was going on.

The gals looked mighty attractive in their get-ups. Much more so than the real prune pickers we recall from bygone days.

Our gal, Sally Howe, who was on hand to pictorially record the event for The Press, submitted that there was one slight flaw in the authenticity of the props that were used. To wit, the ladders.

Sally, who speaks from experience and should know, explained that ladders never were used in picking prunes, as far as she recalls.

You see, the trees were shaken and the prunes would fall. Still, the ladders in the PruneYard branch helped add a little bucolic realism to the background.

The way the area has changed in recent years from rural to urban, one might be hard-pressed to prove anything about it anyway.

You first would have to find a prune orchard.

GRANDFATHERS, WE have found, traditionally take almost as much pride in their brand new grandchildren as do the parents.

Take as a case in point, our brother-in-law, Ken Grimes, of Fresno.

We were playing golf with him recently in Fresno and it took longer than usual to go around the course.

You see, Ken had to stop and show the latest picture of little Jennifer, his granddaughter, (daughter of Chuck and Julie Wills) to all the people he knew on the course.

Inasmuch as we were playing on his home course and he is a director of the club, there were only a few persons around he did NOT know.

Unfortunately for us, it didn't affect his game any. Ken played 'way over his head. We helped pay for the pictures but Ken did offer to pay our way from Campbell to San Jose any time for a golf game. We just may take him up on that offer. Provided Chuck and Julie don't have another baby too soon.

Now we have another "no-no" to remember before we tee off against an opponent!

Don't bet with proud grandparents, especially when they are carrying photos of their grandkids with 'em.

SPEAKING OF GRANDparents, Ed Fabbri, of the aforementioned BofA, has been proudly passing out cigars lately because of the arrival of his grandson, Jason Christopher Fabbri, the first boy on the Fabbri side of the family.

Jason ("J.C."?) is not Mary and Ed's first grandchild but his arrival, according to Ed, was a little more "eventful" than the others.

Ed received the word that Jason had arrived at a district staff meeting at which a number of BofA brass were in attendance. Ed was called to the phone in the meeting room (apparently everyone present had been aware that such a

City gets budget for $4.3 million

A $4.3 million preliminary operating budget for the fiscal year 1971-72 for the City of Campbell, contemplating a one-cent reduction in property taxes from $1.91 to $1.90 per $100 assessed valuation, has been prepared by City Manager Bob Stephens and is on file in the city clerk's office at the city hall.

It will be submitted to the City Council on Monday, June 14.

The Council will hold a series of budget study sessions this month and is scheduled to adopt the preliminary budget before July 1.

However, final approval of the city's budget will not be made until the second regular meeting in August when actual, instead of estimated, figures will be available for surpluses and assessed valuation.

The tax rate will be set at the August meeting based on the actual assessed valuation which will be available at that time.

The preliminary budget project for the next fiscal year estimates an income of $3,490,275 from all sources for the city, including $530,000 in street improvement bonds and $273,700 in park improvement bonds, and a surplus from all funds of $813,000 on June 30, 1971.

Expenditures for the next fiscal year are estimated at $3,720,150, leaving a balance of $542,425 of which, however, only $22,090 is projected for the general fund.

COSTS UP

In his budget message, Stephens explains that operational expenditures continue to increase at a greater proportionate rate than projected revenues available to the city during the current and fiscal years.

The city manager submits that (1) the inflationary percentage rate increase for cost of labor and materials and (2) that there has been no relaxation or basis to reduce or eliminate city services as the two basic causes for the spiraling upward trend of operational expenses.

In presenting the preliminary budget, City Manager Stephens also emphasizes that before adopting the final budget in August, it will be necessary for the City Council to consider a number of alternatives.

Stephens points out that it only projects a general fund reserve at the end of the next fiscal year (June 30, 1972) of $22,090.

A Council policy is that the reserve should be maintained at a minimum of $50,000.

DICK ADAMS DIES AT AGE 44

Heart attack takes life of acting postmaster

A shocked and saddened community this week mourned the loss of Campbell's popular acting postmaster, Richard L. (Dick) Adams, Sr., 44, who was victim of a fatal heart attack Saturday at his home.

Adams, who had been employed at the Campbell post office for 24 years, had served as assistant postmaster under three postmasters. On Nov. 1, 1969, when Postmaster Jim Hurley retired, Adams was named officer-in-charge of the local office. He was serving in that capacity at the time of his death.

Ironically, just a few weeks prior to his death, reliable sources had indicated that Adams was in line for the permanent appointment as postmaster.

Funeral services were conducted at the Oak Hill Mortuary's Chapel of the Oaks on Tuesday at 2 p.m. with interment in Oak Hill Memorial Park. The Rev. Melton Davis officiated at the services.

Pallbearers at the services were long-time postal associates of Adams and included former Postmaster Hurley, Dean Cavit and Clyde Cochran, clerks in Campbell; Joe Moore and Smoke Miller, carriers and George Shoemaker, supervisor.

Adams in his long service in the Campbell office had made a multitude of friends. He was personally known to hundreds of patrons as he made a point of "circulating" among the customers and offering assistance and direction. He was on a first-name basis with almost all the "steadies" at the local office and took a deep interest in community affairs. He was long-active in the Chamber of Commerce.

He is survived by his wife, Lucille and two sons, Terry, who is a graduating senior at Branham High School and Richard, a graduate of Del Mar High, now employed in Downey. Their family home is at 2571 Tioga Way. He was the grandfather of Jamie Lynn Adams.

He is also survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Adams, Sr., of Lake County. His father was retired from the postal service after serving in the Los Gatos office for 30 years.

Other survivors include his brothers, Charles R. Adams, Jr., of Los Gatos and Ronald Adams, of Campbell and sisters, Mrs. Peggy Smith, of Los Gatos, and Mrs. Cecil Morgan, of Nice, California.

Adams had been at his office for a short period on Saturday, but had not complained of any ailments according to those on duty. The fatal attack occurred at about 2:30 p.m. at his home. Death was practically instantaneous, it was reported.

Adams was born in Iowa on January 24, 1927 and spent four years in the U.S. Navy during World War II. His family had moved to California from Iowa and after his discharge from the Navy he entered the postal service as a substitute carrier in 1947 in Los Gatos.

In 1951, he was assigned to the Campbell post office as a clerk under the late Postmaster Ira Grim. Subsequently he was promoted to assistant postmaster under Grim.

Adams served in the same capacity under former Postmaster Ellis Litynsky, who succeeded Grim. Mrs. Litynsky was postmaster from 1957 to 1963.

Hurley followed Mrs. Litynsky from 1963 to 1969 and Adams was assistant postmaster until Hurley retired on Nov. 1, 1969.

Adams was named officer-in-charge of the local office with all the duties of postmaster upon Hurley's retirement.

Adams was a member and officer in the Postal Supervisors' Association, and a member of the Lettermen Club, a social organization of the postal service.

Board names two new principals in district

Louie Albanese, acting principal of Forest Hill School has been appointed principal of that school and Jim Bryan, vice-principal of Campbell School, will be principal of San Tomas School.

The board of trustees approved the appointments at the last meeting.

Bryan replaces Dick Leyva, who has accepted a position of principal in the Mountain View district.

Council meets in special session Monday on parks communication

Meeting in a special adjourned session next Monday, June 7, the City Council will consider the proposed joint powers agreement between the city and the Campbell Union (elementary) School District relative to the seven neighborhood parks.

On the agenda also is the issue of whether the city should establish its own communication system. Action on the communication problem will be largely based on what the county supervisors will do this week with respect to the proposed charges for the county services that have been submitted.

Campbell has been informed that the cost of communication services will be increased next year to $36,000 from the present $15,000 figure, and in the following year will be hiked to $56,000.

Police Captain Don Burr, acting police chief, has reported that the city could operate its own system next year with three additional personnel at a cost of $30,000. The city has the necessary equipment on hand.

The supervisors have not yet approved the rate increase which is based on cost factors, according to county officials.

The city's bond counsel is also scheduled to report to the City Council next Monday as to the procedure for the sale of $720,000 in bonds that the city is contemplating. The bonds will be for street improvement and the development of Rincon Park.

At the last meeting of the board of trustees of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District, Fred Peterson, administrative assistant for the school district, submitted for study the proposed joint powers agreement for the neighborhood parks.

The City Council will receive the same agreement. The city from bond funds approved by the voters will allocate $10,000 to each of the seven schools in the district for development of the parks.

A schedule of budget study sessions also may be hammered out at the special Council meeting next Monday.

District wants to sell bonds

A resolution was adopted by the board of trustees of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District last Thursday specifying the district's intent to sell $2,590,000 for construction of additions at Hazelwood, Forest Hill and Campbell schools.

The board also approved a resolution requesting the State Department of Education to consider funding the mandated implementation of the planning, programming, budgeting system (P.P.B.S.).

Morgan's condition stays unchanged

Condition of Police Chief John D. Morgan, who was stricken with a cerebral hemorrhage on February 13, remains the same, according to Sgt. John Butler of the police department.

Morgan, confined to Campbell Community Hospital, is still totally paralyzed but conscious.

Fund raisings throughout the community have raised $15,500, according to Butler, with $12,371 of that sum already paid out in medical expenses.

Still to be added to the fund are monies raised by the Campbell Youth Advisory Commission which held a candy sale and dance.

Events which are planned to aid Morgan include a supermarket sweepstakes at Fry's Market on June 29 sponsored by the Campbell Kiwanis Club and a student matinees series at the United Artists Theater No. 1 in the PruneYard.

The matinees are sponsored by the Peninsula Adult-Youth Film Council and are being held Wednesdays from June 23 to August 11. A limited number of tickets are available at the police department.

Commission gets plans for 9-story building

Plans for a nine-story commercial-office-apartment building with an adjacent three-level parking structure to be located at the southwest corner of Llewellyn Ave. and W. Hamilton will be before the Planning Commission next Monday, June 7.

Art Kee, planning director, has recommended that the Planning Commission continue action on the application for 30 days to allow the staff to further study the traffic circulation pattern and other factors.

Plans call for the 87-foot high (96-feet with the smoke tower) building to be constructed on the 8.7-acre site. Each of the nine floors will be approximately 44,616 square feet in size (slightly over one-acre). The first floor calls for commercial use and the second floor for offices. The top eight floors call for 280 apartment units.

Plans call for the building to be constructed of split-faced white concrete blocks. Each level of the parking structure will have 67,000 square feet. It is in a P-D (planned development) zoning.

Central Development Co. is the applicant for the mammoth structure.

Other plans that will be before the Planning Commission next Monday include a warehouse at 1624 Dell Ave. for Belco Electric; a commercial office building at 2985 Winchester for Byrnes & Errico; a four-unit apartment at 7070 West Valley Dr. for John Froese and a convenience market at 455 E. Hamilton (next to the new Tia Maria restaurant) for Varian Associates.

Planning Director Kee is also referring the request for a pole sign for "Sambo's" in the San Tomas Plaza (Campbell at San Tomas) to the Commission and approval also being requested for an industrial building at 285 Dillon Ave. for J. Herr.

Editorial

Poor legislation

The Campbell Press has long had a "provincial" attitude in its editorials.

We mean that this newspaper attempts to confine itself to problems of a local nature that affect our constituents of this area.

Rarely do we become involved editorially in matters that are primarily of a state or national basis.

We have long contended that our primary function revolves around activities of this community and our goal is to keep our readers informed on purely local matters.

This, of course, does not mean that The Press is not interested in what is happening in the state or national circles. But we recognize that "our sphere" is limited.

There are times, of course, that there is an overlap and what is taking place in Sacramento, for example, can have a very direct effect on this community.

At the present time there is a controversial bill in the State Senate (Senate Bill 333) that, if it becomes law, could have a harmful effect on home rule and to a large extent, in our opinion, on the concept of representative government.

Senate Bill 333 provides for compulsory and binding arbitration of wages, hours, retirement benefits and all other terms and conditions of local policemen and firemen.

Under state legislation that is now in effect, "meet and confer sessions" are created between the cities and their employees on wages, hours and other conditions of employment.

Senate Bill 333 would force compulsory arbitration which would be binding on the cities, if agreement is reached in the meet and confer sessions.

In effect this could mean that an arbitration board has the power to dictate the amount of salary and fringe benefits that police and fire groups will receive without taking into consideration a city's fiscal condition or ability to pay.

This arbitration board is responsible to no one and must answer to no one. No private business could operate under similar circumstances. Why then should the state legislature force cities to do so?

The Campbell Firefighters local of the AFL-CIO favors Senate Bill 333 and claims that compulsory arbitration would prevent strike by police and firemen.

Strikes by firemen and policemen, in our opinion, should be unthinkable in the first place.

We hold that people entrusted with the safety of citizens and their property should not consider the use of a strike as a weapon.

We are talking about lives of people that they are supposed to protect. That is not the same as in industrial operations when "protection" of basic rights of all the people is not the issue.

Binding arbitration is not the solution in the working out of differences. We are convinced that, given the opportunity, local government and local employees can work out their differences and solve their own problems.

We think it is grossly unfair to all parties concerned to maintain that there is no use to try to work out the differences but to turn the problem over to an outside party.

To permit a non-elected, non-responsive private individual or board to determine a major item in a city's budget, and therefore its tax rate, with no recourse by the people, does not conform to the elected representative form of government. Final decision on such matters should be left with the elected representatives of the people.

Opposition to Senate Bill 333 obviously comes from the elected representatives of the people, i.e., the city councils of the cities throughout the state.

The League of California Cities opposes the measure and the City of Campbell has gone on record as opposed to the compulsory arbitration bill, prior to the request of the local firefighters' union that the City of Campbell reverse its stand and favor the bill.

In answer to the firefighters' letter, Campbell's City Council, by a unanimous vote, has reaffirmed its previous position opposing compulsory arbitration.

We commend the City Council for standing firm.

We hold that good faith is the standard to use in all such negotiations. State legislation cannot create that.

call might come in).

The business session was interrupted for a spell for congratulations after Ed had turned to the assembled group with the announcement, "it's a boy".

The senior Fabbris had been waiting for some time for the announcement. During the night they had sort of divided their parental functions between their son and daughter.

Their daughter had been ill and they were baby-sitting when they got the word that their daughter-in-law was also going to the hospital.

It had been a pretty busy night for the grandparents.

Jason doesn't know yet that his arrival interrupted a conference of BofA wheels.

We are sure, however, that the BofA people didn't mind that type of interruption.

That is, in light of others they have had recently in many places.

READERS OF THE PRESS would be wise to take advantage of the coupons that appear in this newspaper from time to time, according to Carl Winther, the ad manager.

And he should know, for Carl is responsible for the ad layouts in which the coupons appear.

Carl reported that, if an individual had taken advantage of all the coupons that appeared in a recent issue of The Press, it would have been worth $18.40 to that person.

Not a bad return on a 10-cent investment!

THE ANONYMOUS MISSIVES that are received are generally ignored and find their way into the round file.

That's really unfortunate because many of these unsigned messages contain information that could be valuable and probably should be aired.

True, we generally read the anonymous notes, but they lose their import when the person doesn't put his name on 'em.

We suppose there are some instances when a person does not want to be "involved".

But when a person takes the time to write and has a good point, it's a shame he doesn't go a step farther and give some weight to his stand.

Take as a f'instance a duplicate letter we received from a "concerned citizen" with the original going to the City Council (also unsigned).

Not only did the writer have an excellent point worthy of publicizing, but he submitted the colored photos with the original letter to prove his point.

It had to do with the unattractive appearance of the city's corporation yard on the creek bank.

Although City Manager Bob Stephens informed the Council that it was his office policy to discard such letters, he admitted that the points raised in the letter had merit.

The city would try to improve conditions at the corp. yard, he said.

So, "concerned citizen" did score in this case.

But we don't know why in the world he didn't want his name known in this instance.

It is too bad we can't give the person the credit he deserves for calling attention to something that needs attention.

You see, there is no one listed in the directory either under "concerned" or "citizen".

"URBIE - THE - FROG" would become as well-known as "Smokey-the-bear", if Bruce Johnson of West Coast Silver Refining Corporation, located in "The Towers", has his way.

Bruce's company specializes in the reclamation of precious metals from waste material plus the recovery of greater quantities of ore concentrates through improved processes.

"Urbie-the-frog", from what we gather, symbolizes the process of turning waste materials into "urban ore".

Bruce suggests that "Urbie" can "swallow" many wastes that are now polluting the country and thus will be to ecology as a whole what "Smokey-the-bear" is in the prevention of forest fires.

West Coast Silver Refining, for example, reclaims silver from industrial and photographic scrap, and thus its customers include hospitals, jewelers, photo processing operation, printers, dentists and the electronic industry.

IT IS FAR BEYOND OUR depth, but we have known Bruce a long time. His enthusiasm for "Urbie" and what the frog symbolizes is refreshing.

Johnson, 29, a Campbell product, is a grad of Campbell High ('59) and San Jose State in 1965. We recall that just out of high school he represented Campbell in Vohburg, Germany, Campbell's almost forgotten sister city.

Bruce, who is marketing director of West Coast Silver, had a last-minute entry named "Urbie" in the Calaveras frog jumping contest and apparently the 'real frog didn't do too well.

He hopes that "Urbie-the-frog", however, will really get off the ground.

N.Y.C. VISITORS GUIDE

This column is from notes written while I was in New York City recently.

New York is a kind of unusual place, with many characteristics of the fabled city of Oz.

Directions, for example, to a non-native, don't make sense.

Uptown is not a place, it a direction.

Downtown likewise is not a place, it is also a direction.

"North" and "South" as directions are unknown; substitute "Uptown" and "Downtown", respectively.

But—don't ask a native New Yorker to tell you this—he won't know!

Midtown, fortunately, IS a place. Well, not exactly a place—it's an area—about the size of Dallas.

Now, Crosstown, there's something you can really get your teeth into. Crosstown is a place. Crosstown is also a direction.

As a "place", Crosstown is defined as: someplace other than where you are. As a direction; substitute: east or west, as the case requries.

For example: you can catch a crosstown bus on either side of an east-west street. Fortunately, east and west ARE known by the natives.

Everyone, even a taxi driver, knows that "eastside" and "westside" are at different ends of the numbered streets.

The numbered avenues are interesting. They run roughly north and south (see North and South, above). But—if you go to New York and a native New Yorker tells you to go to Sixth Avenue, don't expect to FIND Sixth Avenue, there's no such animal.

To a native, there's Sixth Avenue, and it's between Fifth and Seventh, but to a visitor it just doesn't exist.

In its stead, there's something called "Avenue of the Americas." It's all well and good, however, because "Avenue of the Americas" doesn't exist for native N.Y.C. residents.

By far the most valuable document for a visitor is the subway guide. You can get a subway guide from the visitors bureau office on 42nd street.

All you have to do is find 42nd St. (It's Crosstown.)

New York is a nice place to live, but I wouldn't want to visit there.

In addition, it conducts research and initiates demonstration projects answering specific needs of the mentally ill in Santa Clara County.

IBM executive heads Campbell UF campaign

Dean Vesling, manager of the IBM card plant in Campbell, will be leading United Fund volunteers in this fall's United Fund campaign in Campbell.

Vesling and a campaign cabinet of five key volunteers will be organizing the local drive that last year raised nearly $56,000.

County-wide, individual contributions amounted to $3,751,749 in 1970 for the support of UF human care services this year. More than 100 such services are now in operation in the categories of health, rehabilitation, child care, youth, guidance and multiple community services.

Vesling is one of 16 volunteer chairmen to be appointed to a post in the Fund's Central Area Chapter by Campaign Chairman Al Scheideler, General Electric.

United Fund volunteers point out that a successful campaign is of particular importance this year because of the increase in the need for human care services in Campbell and elsewhere in Santa Clara County.

Vesling is active in the Campbell Rotary Club and a director of the Chamber of Commerce. He and his wife make their home in Saratoga with their three children.

Summer workshop in theatrical skills keeps youngsters busy

The Cabrini Community Theater is sponsoring a special summer program for its 1971 summer workshop. The workshops will be held at the St. Frances Cabrini Hall on Camden Ave. There is a $5 per workshop registration fee.

One section of the program, the San Jose Children's Musical Theater workshop, will produce a complete production of the world-famous musical "Wizard Of Oz" on Aug. 7, 8, 14 and 15 at 8 p.m. on Saturday and 3 p.m. Sundays.

Rehearsals will be held on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons from 1 to 4 p.m. beginning Monday, June 21. A cast of over 100 is needed, including singers, dancers, actors, and technical help from 7-18 years of age.

The production will be directed by the San Jose Children's Musical Theater resident director, John P. Healy, Jr. In addition, the SJCMT Theater Orchestra, comprised of amateur musicians of all ages and professions is looking for string, woodwind, brass and percussion musicians to accompany "Wizard".

Rehearsals will be on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, from 7-9:30 p.m. at the Cabrini Hall. All interested musicians are urged to call 371-0232. The first rehearsal will be on Tuesday, June 22.

Another section is the San Jose Marionette Theater Workshop, sponsored by CCT. The Marionette Theater will present the world premiere of "Goldilocks and the Three Bears". This workshop will meet on Monday and Wednesday mornings from 10:30 to 12 noon and perform on Saturday and Sunday, July 10 and 11 at 3 p.m.

Registration is limited to 35 youngsters from 6-16 yrs. Life size marionettes will be interpolated among live performers onstage.

In addition, a special workshop for people over nine years of age will be held to teach the reading of music by voice and corresponding the written note to the keyboard, along with basic vocal training and choral reading. This is an excellent opportunity for those who lack the ability to sight read music or would like group voice training.

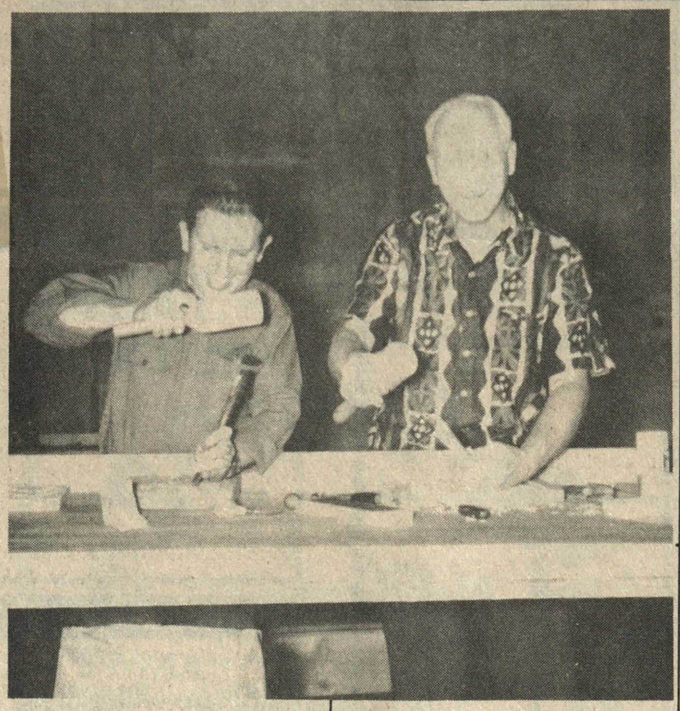
In addition, the basics of theatrical dance will be taught by the choreographer of The Wizard of Oz as part of the special workshop, covering jazz, tap, and jitterbug.

The $5 fee covers both music and dance lessons. This workshop will meet on Monday and Wednesday mornings from 9-12 noon, and is limited to 50 people on a first-come first-served basis.

Registration and auditions for the three workshops will be held at Cabrini Hall on June 5 and 12 from 1-3 p.m. Applications may be filled out at this time, although pre-registration for the limited workshops is advisable. For pre-registration information call 371-0232 or 371-0491. Registration fee must accompany application.

From the auditions, the members of the CCT and San Jose Children's Musical Theater touring companies, the Entr'Actes, Melodears, and Finales will be chosen. These groups act as fund raisers for the theater, performing for clubs, banquets, fashion shows and school assemblies.

They have been invited to perform at the Santa Clara County Fair, and plans are underway for possible trips to the Sacramento State Fair and Disneyland for performing tours.



HOBBY CRAFTS---Manuel Flores and Al Orzel of Campbell Plaza Safeway spend one or two evenings a week doing woodcarving in preparation for the Safeway employees Arts and Crafts show at Mirassou Vineyards, Saturday and Sunday, June 12 and 13. Orzel, store manager, says the show is a follow-up to a similar one held last summer at Kelly Park.

Safeway employees put on arts and crafts exhibit

Safeway employees are "doing their thing" three nights weekly in a vacated Safeway store in San Jose.

There they meet and work on various crafts which they'll be displaying to the public at Mirassou Vineyards on Saturday and Sunday, June 12 and 13.

Crafts include paintings, wood carving, macrame', leathercraft, pottery, ceramics, photography, decorating, decoupage, toy making, weaving, rug making, and sculpture. "Musical" employees will also demonstrate their talents.

The employees had previously had a "talent" and "skills" show, but only during the past two months have they enjoyed the use of a building for their projects.

Letters to the Editor

WHO ARE THE WARMONGERS?

In the minds of many people living in the United States, they see the U.S. as being a tyrannical warmonger plunging and trampling over the world with her military and industrial might.

In the same respect, North Viet Nam is thought of by many, as being patriotic, and loyally devoted to their cause of liberating South Viet Nam.

How can they explain away the massacre at Hue in 1968. Or, at the same time, the atrocities at Dak Son, Phu Thanh, Malinh, Nam Dan, (Ho Chi Minh's birthplace), or Can Tho. Seven thousand five hundred were brutally murdered at Hue, 252 at Dak Son, 114 at Phu Thanh, 120 at Malinh, 6,000 in the Nam Dan region, 108 at a Can Tho theater. They were all civilians, many were women and children.

The methods are typical of communist terrorism, grenades, phosphorus bombs, mortar, execution by mock trial, torture, torches, and flame throwers. Their favorite targets for assassination include clergymen, nuns, lawyers, businessmen, teachers, government officials and police.

Hundreds of public officials are executed each year. These are all educated people. Because some readers have weak stomachs, the gruesome details have been left out.

The communists had destroyed 7,559 villages and hamlets up to 1965 only. By the end of the 1961-62 school year, the communists had closed 636 schools in South Viet Nam. Eighty thousand students no longer attended, due to the fear of communist terrorists.

What are the reasons for the senseless massacres, terror bombings, disruptions at the polls, and other aggressive acts inflicted by the people who say they are liberating South Viet Nam? The reasons should be distinctively clear to those who will bother to put two and two together.

The communists' aim is to do everything they can to spread their influence and power around the globe. They will stop at nothing. The atrocities that you have read about are only a small sample of years of aggression and suppression of millions of people.

The people of Viet Nam, those that have lost relatives to the communists, know of the fallacies of believing in this totalitarian system. But, many Americans are still blind to the fact that communism is a threat to their own existence, as it has been with other countries for over 30 years.

Fashions, obedience, carts are part of dog events at Kirkwood

GO, BARNEY, GO---Looks like Barney, the Saint Bernard, isn't too sure he wants to pull Pieter and Robert Sluis, but Barney is saving himself for Saturday when he and other Saints will offer cart rides to youngsters as part of Dolphin Pet Village's grand opening at Kirkwood Plaza.

Massive Saint Bernards will pull carts, Alaskan Malamutes will perform weight pulling demonstrations, obedience trained dogs will show their best manners, kids will have a dog show, and a "fashion show" for the well dressed canine. It will be held when Dolphin Pet Village holds its grand opening on Saturday and Sunday at Kirkwood Plaza on West Campbell Ave.

The gala celebration will commence Saturday morning at 10 a.m. when the Kirkwood Plaza Merchants Association and Ken-L-Ration co-sponsor a kid's amateur dog show, including prizes for best costumed dog, best groomed dog, best trick dog, largest and smallest dog.

Following in short order will be the canine fashion show, and an obedience "fun" match by members of the Santa Clara Dog Training Club, featuring dogs who regularly compete in licensed American Kennel Club obedience trials.

The newly completed Pet Village includes the Dolphin Aquarium, Dolphin Pet and Kirkwood Animal Hospital.

Miller Photographers of Campbell will take pictures of youngsters who are brave enough to pose with the gorilla (?) who'll also be there.

The Saint Bernards who'll be doing the cart pulling are owned by members of the Saint Bernard Club of Central California whose principal aim is improving their breed, but whose secondary activities include a parade and cart pulling unit, many picnics and campouts for the members and their families.

The obedience club, Santa Clara Dog Training Club, Inc., has been holding obedience classes for 16 years and putting on obedience trials for 13 years at the county fairgrounds.

The Saturday show is a simulated show with the dogs actually being judged for their performances.

WINNING WAY---Jackie, a miniature poodle, shows off with his mistress, Mrs. Shirley Bavilacqua, some of the trophies he won in just one obedience trial. Jackie and many of his friends in the Santa Clara Dog Training Club, Inc., will show "how its done" at Kirkwood Plaza at 1 p.m. on Saturday as part of a weekend grand opening celebration by Dolphin Pet Village.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

NEIGHBORHOOD 15

by Nan Warren

That was not a gathering of a "women's lib group" you may have seen at Vasona Park recently--those were "moms" getting ready to go to camp!

Every mother needs a change of pace occasionally but mothers who go to camp are something very special. Without these mothers who are willing to give their time, the Santa Clara County Day Camping program would be in a real pickle and many little girls from all over the valley would be greatly disappointed.

The Girl Scout Council provides training for these women to give helps in program ideas, crafts, outdoor cooking, safety measures, etc.; that's why nearly 100 of them were gathered at Vasona. During the six training sessions, nearly 500 women will be sharing ideas in preparation for the days they will help in the camp they selected.

Each spring, mothers are recruited by troop leaders to serve as unit leaders in the summer camping program. Approximately 20% of the women who work are troop leaders or have helped in a day camp previously. The other 80% are mothers right out of their busy kitchens who have never done this type of volunteer work before. The daily chores are "temporarily" left behind while these great gals share their many talents with girls of all ages -- Scouts and non-Scouts.

There's no monetary remuneration -- they do it because they want to help their daughter's troop, and the feeling of knowing many girls will have a wonderful camping experience of fun, friends and new skills is satisfaction in itself.

Could Be A Signal

Persistent hoarseness or difficulty in swallowing could be a warning signal of cancer. See your physician, the American Cancer Society suggests.

Letters to the Editor

THANK YOU NOTE

Dear George,

I want to thank you for such extensive publicity you gave me in the last issue of The Press. Although I knew that I was among the "Old Timers" it really took me by surprise—when at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon—I was presented with a Certificate for having been in Business longer than anyone in Campbell.

I would have liked to relate more about times in the 30's and 40's when Campbell truly was an Orchard City. However, as records show with 1099 business license, Campbell has become a progressive city. I could have summarized my few remarks by saying the folks in the city of Campbell have been good to me. I mailed five copies of "The Press" to relatives in Denmark, so the paper will be read there.

Thanks again,
Hans E. Hansen

CARD PARTY

The American Legion Auxiliary No. 158, West Valley, will hold a card party on Monday, June 7 at 1 p.m. at the Post Hall on Dell Ave. The event is open to the public.

LITTLE LEAGUE BENEFITS---Joe McGrody, right, president of Campbell Little League, receives a check for $458 from John Wyatt, district manager of United Artists Theaters. The check represents a portion of the proceeds of an Easter matinee at the PruneYard Theaters. Along with the discounted ticket sales to local merchants, Campbell Little League realized over $750 from the matinee which will be used to offset operating expenses.

Besack was killed when his motorcycle and a car collided in downtown San Jose.

A native of California, Besack was a package clerk for Greyhound Bus Lines.

Survivors, besides his wife and parents, include a sister, Dorothy Christianson of Sacramento, and his grandmothers, Mrs. Nellie Held of San Jose and Mrs. Lella Long of Mt. Bullion.

Vanguards receive VFW support

An exhibition performance of the Santa Clara Vanguard Drum and Bugle Corps was held on the football field of West Valley College, preceding a donkey baseball game recently. The activity was sponsored by the Campbell Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 6305, to raise funds for hospital rehabilitation and youth activities. (The post is one of the corps co-sponsors.)

The Vanguard's performance was part of a ceremony planned for the presentation of the V.F.W. banner, to be carried by the corps while competing in the V.F.W. Junior Drum & Bugle Corps National Championships, August 15-18, in Dallas, Texas.

Tim Moxley, drum major, received the banner from James Crane, post commander. Accompanying Comdr. Crane was Mrs. Mary Jackson of the Lt. Byron Lamphear Auxiliary, who presented the corps with a check for $50.

The Vanguard has received much acclaim for its famous corner "fan" entrance while playing "Procession Of the Nobles". However, they surprised spectators with an entirely new drill, written to "Henry V". Their repertoire also included, "Chester", and "Miracles", during which they maneuvered through the first half of their field show and formed concert position; at this point, the presentations were made.

One of the major national contenders in the Drum & Bugle Corps Circuit, the Vanguard depends entirely on support from the Vanguard Booster Club, prize money and cash donations. Anyone interested in contacting the corps, may write to: S.C. Vanguard Booster Club, Mrs. Ruth Cahill, Sec., 1585 Jamestown Dr., San Jose 95129.

All ostomates, their families and all other interested professional and lay persons are invited to attend.

Strawberry Festival has country fair atmosphere

The annual Ming Quong Strawberry Festival will be held Saturday and Sunday, June 5 and 6 at the Ming Quong Center, 499 Loma Alta Ave., Los Gatos.

Events are planned for the pleasure of all sizes and ages, according to Mrs. Allan Beattie, festival chairman.

The festival is operated like an old time country fair, staffed entirely by volunteers. The money collected goes directly into funds for care and treatment of children who are housed at the center.

Booths decorated with giant strawberries will contain bazaar items of every description. Twenty well-known Bay Area artists will display arts and crafts and a quilting demonstration will be held for the benefit of those wishing to learn quilt-making.

A "farmers market" will be set up, with fresh vegetables and strawberries, flowers, plants, shrubs, home baked and gourmet foods.

The international kitchen will serve foods during the day, including strawberry shortcake and sundaes.

Rides on a pony-drawn "surrey with the fringe on top" will be available to youngsters. A mariachi band, bagpipes and dancers will perform.

The festival will be open 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. There is no admission charge. For information, call 354-6051.

YES luncheon offers fashions

A luncheon and fashion show to benefit the Campbell Youth Employment Service will be held Tuesday, June 15, at 11:30 a.m. at First United Methodist Church.

The fashion show will be of "home-made" clothing, modeled by the person who sewed them. Mothers and their daughters will parade in home-sewn garments, some made by the girls in sewing classes. Toddlers will also wear what grandmas and mamas have created for them.

Luncheon will be provided by the ladies luncheon league and recipes and prizes will be given.

Tickets are available by mail from Mrs. Judi Padgett, 761 Willow Glen Way, 294-1079, or by calling the Chamber of Commerce, 378-6252.

Final concert for orchestra

West Valley College's Symphony Orchestra will make its second appearance in Santa Clara on June 4 in Buchser High School Auditorium, 3000 Benton St.

The orchestra, conducted by Miss Gilda Mazzanti, will perform the Prelude to Wagner's opera, "Die Meistersinger", the "Roman Carnival" overture by Berlioz, and Beethoven's Fifth Symphony.

Admission to the concert, which will begin at 8 p.m., is free.

This is the orchestra's final performance for the spring semester. Rehearsals will continue through the summer session in preparation for a concert the end of July.

Any interested instrumentalists are invited to attend the summer rehearsals, which will be conducted by Cesare Claudio. They will be held each Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evening from 7 to 10 p.m., beginning June 22, in room E-12 of the Campbell campus of West Valley College.

Saratoga Drama Group will hold auditions for Rodgers and Hammerstein's "Oklahoma" at the Saratoga Civic Theater, 13777 Fruitvale Ave., Saratoga at 1 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday, June 12 and 13. C. Michael Traw is director. For information call Marian Cherry, producer at 867-1575.

Campbell High School will present its fourth annual variety show on Friday and Saturday nights, June 4 and 5, at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

John Hall is faculty advisor for the show. Admission charge fwill be 75 cents and tickets are available at the door.

Participating are Lynn Ammerman, Steve DeOrnellas, Lynn Eldredge, Jerry Evans, Joan Evans, Pete Fair, Kevin Gray, Rick Harris, Cecile LaCarg, Drew Lucas, Mike Manilia, Ricci Mann, Mike McDermott, Bill Menkemeller, Sally Merriell, Dave Parker, Mike Powers, Pat Powers, John Reilly, Alden Skinner, Nancy Swisher, Jeff Wilson and Sherree Young.

DZ alums hold installation

The San Jose Alumnae of Delta Zeta combined purposes for their annual May event when they held installation of officers and a welcome to Delta Zeta seniors at San Jose State into the association.

Mrs. John Murphy of Campbell was named ways and means co-chairman along with Mrs. Robert E. Rice of San Jose.

Vera Lou Hale, retiring president, conducted the ceremonies.

Installed were: Mrs. George Sheets, president; Mrs. Joseph Crosby, vice-president; Mrs. Douglas Eichenbaum, recording secretary; Mrs. James P. Hart, corresponding secretary; Mrs. George Stone, treasurer; Mrs. Lowell Grattan and Mrs. Mark Mollander, Panhellenic representatives; Mrs. J. Dall Barley, Lamp editor; and Mrs. Stuart Ewbank, Northern California Council representative and membership chairman.

Appointed officers for 1971-72 are: Mrs. Gary Anderson and Mrs. James Thompson, publicity; Mrs. John P. Dietz and Mrs. Gerald Moore, philanthrophy; Vera Lou Hale, recommendations; Mrs. Steve Cornell, telephone; Mrs. Kenneth Bold, bulletins; Mrs. Nick Shehadi, magazines.

Honored graduates at the dinner were: Linda Shaffer, Natalie Biess, Cheryl Callaway and Sue Procter.

DRESSED FOR THE OCCASION---When Bank of America employees at the Pruneyard decided to look like prunepickers, they went all the way and wore "appropriate" clothing, too. Mrs. Jean Nicklin, bank customer, was fooled for a minute, and then looked at the prune branches, ranch boxes and sacks of prunes in the bank and "got the message". Showing off are Val Penn, Barbara Bettencourt, Ginger Freitas, Diana Corona, Marcia Zane, Janet Hollandsworth and Sheenagh Bittles.

Bringing up fido

A recent article in Family Health magazine (April, 1971) contained some excellent suggestions on choosing a pet for a child.

Accompanying the article was a chart which suggests the physical requirements for more than 50 of the most popular breeds of dogs, average prices, and their behavior with children.

While I didn't completely agree with the charts (it said Irish Setters could tolerate apartment life), I did appreciate the overall accuracy and honest appraisal of several breeds.

Unfortunately, as a breed of dog reaches higher and higher popularity, then more and more unsuitable temperament seems to be evident, possibly because persons who are not knowledgeable insist on raising puppies.

Some interesting points in the article. The average life of the dog who is allowed to wander free is two years; all cats should be neutered, it costs $100 million a year to round up strays.

Two exciting chances to see dogs this coming weekend. Kirkwood Plaza's Dolphin Pet Village is having a kids' dog show on Saturday, along with an obedience demonstration, dog pulling races and cart rides. On Sunday, they'll have a repeat of some of the events.

Also on Sunday, an all-breed "fun" match at the family park at the county fairgrounds (no admission charge) will give prospective dog owners a chance to see many different breeds.

As the weather warms, daily clean-up of dog areas becomes more and more important. Don't be discourteous to your neighborhood by failing to perform this task. There's nothing more fun than an outdoor barbecue which ends up inside because of the flies attracted by a thoughtless dog owner.

Remember, you are as responsible for your pets as you are for your children!

Campbell kids get a bang out of Jaycee bike drag races

The Campbell JayCees sponsored what is intended to be the first of many Bicycle Drag Race events on a recent Saturday, at the Campbell High School parking lot.

Highlight of the day was the race between Myron Alexander, local realtor and planning commissioner, and Henry Cary, parks and recreation commissioner. When the smoke cleared and the times were recorded, it was determined that they had run a dead heat.

Timing equipment and starting lights were brought in and operated by Bill Vickonoff of the La Mirada JayCees. Vickonoff is the originator of the National Bicycle Drag Race Association, which he is organizing throughout the state.

The course was fifty yards long and the race was run from a dead start, matching two contestants at a time with the winner continuing in the elimination until a winner was determined in each class.

The winners in each class were as follows:

Boys, six and seven years: 1st, Hank Vanderhulst; 2nd, Jeff Brundage; 3rd, Creg West,

Girls, eight and nine years: 1st, Merrilee Hartigan; 2nd, Sandra Vanderhulst. Boys, eight and nine years: 1st, Doug Valkenaar; 2nd, John Blaine; 3rd, Keith Ramsey.

Girls, 10-11 years: 1st, Pat Kennedy; 2nd, Debbie Brundage. Boys 10-11 years: 1st, Kelly VanArsdell; 2nd, Alan McFadon; 3rd, Allen Gammon.

Boys, 12–13 years: 1st, Rick Karrle; 2nd, Dan Pennington; 3rd, John Cramer.

Boys, 14-16 years: 1st, Ken Hotchkiss; 2nd, Ron Martin; 3rd, Wayne Downey.

Also on hand was the Police Department's Public Service Van and Bicycle Licensing Bureau.

WHEELIES---Skill demonstrations are put on by two boys competing in the Campbell JayCees bike drag contest at Campbell High School. The event was the first in what the JayCees hope will become an annual community event.

Scarlett La Rue's of Los Gatos is the champion of the South Bay League, "A" Division of the Northern California Darts Assn. The La Rue's finished a scant three games ahead of the Banbury Clock I of San Jose. This is the second straight championship for the team which won the Fall-Winter League as the Gaslighter Theater I from Campbell.

It was almost a repeat performance of their fall-winter win. In both cases they started the season in first place, dropping down to third for a couple of weeks and coming back strong for the finish. They won 77 of the 120 games played for an average of .584. Of the 10 matches played, they won eight, lost one and tied one. The second place Banbury Clock won eight and lost two.

SOUTH BAY "B"

The Redwood City-based Harold's Club finished the season 13 games ahead of Campbell's Black Knight II. It was a see-saw battle for first all season with the turning point coming in the next to last week when Harold's beat the Knights with a resounding 11-1.

EL CAMINO LEAGUE

Primrose Lanes I of Burlingame had a 20 game lead going into the last week of play in the El Camino League "A" Division. They lost their match, their first loss of the season, and still finished 19 games ahead of the second place Scuttlebutt of Mountain View.

In the "B" Division the Banbury Clock II of San Jose and Andy Capp's of Sunnyvale fought a see-saw battle for first with the Clock emerging victorious by two games. The match win, lose, draw figures for the Clock were 6 - 3 - 1 against Andy Capp's 5 - 3 - 2.

CHALLENGE PLAQUE

Some weeks back the Lancashire Lad instituted two challenge plaques. One for "A" Division players and one for the "B" Division players. The Gaslighter Theater was the first challenger and won the plaque last Tuesday. It was a close, well fought, but friendly match.

The match was contested at nine singles games and one team game for one point each and four doubles games at two points each. A second team game would be played if the match ended in a tie.

Fran Sprecher of the Lad took the first game from Tom Carroll while the Gaslighter's Marv Schwartz countered against Darla Nelson. The Lad's Lynn Malsbury popped a 127 in defeating the Gaslighter's Jack Peterson. The Gaslighters evened it up with Jo Aydelotte defeating Frank Malsbury.

The next time around it still stayed even with the Gaslighter's Dan Chavez taking Dona Condon and the Lad's Peyton Smith defeating Carol Twerberg. The Gaslighters then took three in a row with Carl Aydelotte, Norm Loop and Hal Williamson defeating Barbara Hughey, Kathi Robbins and Pam Kelly, in that order. The Lad's then won the team game and the score stood at 6-4 for the Gaslighters.

At this point the Gaslighters only needed four points to cinch the win. This they did by taking the first two doubles games. The final score was 10-8. The Lads will have a return match next Wednesday night, June 9, at the Gaslighter Theater, 400 E. Campbell Ave., to try to recover the plaque.

HALF-CENTURY

Harold A. Vanderhoof, 600 Monica Lane, was among the 757 members of the Class of 1921 of the University of Wisconsin at Madison who were recently inducted into Wisconsin's "Half-Century Club" at one of the main events of the Wisconsin Alumni Association's annual Reunion Weekend program this spring.

The members of the class who received their degrees from the University 50 years ago became members of the Half-Century Club at a luncheon in the Wisconsin Union.

Teachers find local manufacturer shares

The teachers who have found Products of the Behavioral Science feel they've discovered a source of teaching aids which has made their classroom work a little more interesting and helpful.

The owners of PBS, Frank and Mary Lou Armbruster, open their warehouse and production rooms to the teachers on the first Saturday of each month.

Why does it help the teachers?

Because PBS manufactures and develops "teaching toys" and allows the teachers to buy many of their products at a small percentage above costs.

In addition, Frank Armbruster spends most of his time demonstrating to the teachers how to play the games. He shows them game variations, ties them in with mathematics questions, encourages exploring new themes and generally acts as a resource person to anyone who wishes to listen.

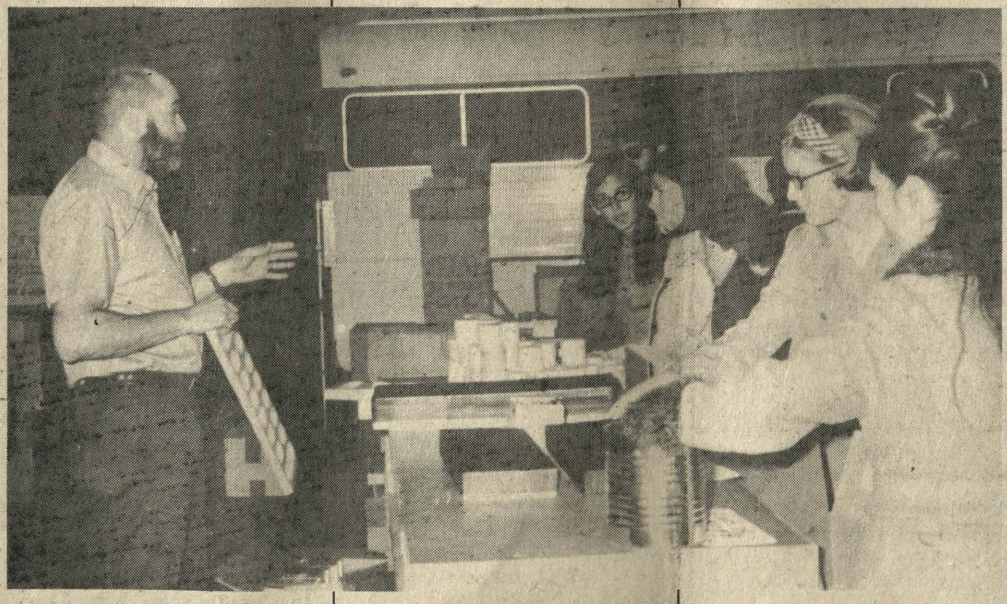
In the manufacture of toys, there is a certain amount of "spoiled" items, over-runs of certain plastic pieces and of course, the unpackaged goods which can be sold for slightly less.

The teachers have a ball. They go through big plastic swimming pools full of plastic alphabet letters, string beads, and purchase miscellaneous items not made by PBS, but obtained through purchase arrangements with other manufacturers.

The Armbrusters are most impressed with the teachers who visit their building. "After all", said Frank Armbruster, "they come here on their own time, spend their own money, and take back to their classrooms and share the many ideas which we exchange here.

"With that kind of person staffing the classrooms, I have no fear that our youngsters won't get the finest of education".

PBS will be open to teachers on the first Saturday of the month (unless it is a holiday weekend) throughout the summer. The building is located at 1140 Dell Ave.



HOW TO PLAY KAHLAH---Frank Armbruster, owner of Products of the Behavioral Sciences, offers teaching demonstrations to teacher-visitors at his plant at 1140 Dell Ave., in a once-a-month "open house" which allows the teachers to purchase games and toys.

DO-IT-YOURSELF --- Teachers from public and private schools find resource material available at little cost when they visit Products of the Behavioral Sciences, 1140 Dell Ave., once each month. PBS offers teaching games and educational toy material to teachers, who are grateful for the chance to make use of unassembled and unpackaged material for their classroom. Here a group "build their own blocks" out of plastic pieces.

MORE ABOUT

City budget

THREE CHOICES

The Council could (1) increase the revenue projections for an additional $27,910 by a 5-cent tax hike to meet the obligations in the preliminary budget allocations; (2) reduce the preliminary budget $27,910 or (3) approve the preliminary budget as recommended, reducing the $50,000 reserve minimum until the final budget hearing in August when the actual figures will be available instead of the present estimates.

The city manager also explains that the preparation of the budget this year followed the procedure used in preceding years with the department heads submitting their requests.

DEPARTMENTS CUT

Stephens said that the department requests were on the whole well prepared and, with few exceptions, were reasonable and well justified. However, to stay within the limitations that had been set, it was necessary to cut $166,915 from the department requests.

He also explained that equipment and rolling stock requested by the departments, totalling $146,605, was denied because of the projected deficit. He said the department heads have been directed to prepare a priority list of needed equipment to be presented at the August hearing.

Requests for additional personnel by the departments, the city manager added, was minimal and he suggests that the requests totalling $73,860 for finance, police, fire, building and public works, should be re-evaluated in August.

The city manager also points out that the proposed $1.90 tax rate allows $1.18 per $100 assessed valuation for operations; 3-cents for payment of park bonds; 5-cents for street bonds; 12-cents for city hall furnishings and 52-cents for previous bond redemptions.

The city manager in his budget message submits that cities are faced with serious fiscal problems because of the "imbalance" that exists in their budget.

Some cities, he noted, have abolished positions, reduced services and have used unallocated reserves to meet budget requirements.

PROJECTS

Stephens explains the preliminary budget allows for the completion of the city hall complex and to initiate the first stages of construction in the Rincon Park development and the eight neighborhood parks, as well as maintaining the most essential city services at a level which is acceptable to the citizens of the city.
